MACKENSEN'S STEAM ROLLER

Austro-Germans Still Progressing Through Morava Valley

ON TO TURKS' CAPITAL

Seat of Serbian Government Removed From Nish to Prizrend, Close to Albanian Border.

London, Oct. 21—Field Marshall Mackensen's Austro-German steam roller is still progressing through the Morava valley of Serbia toward Constantinople.

All along the Serbian northern frontier, for fifty miles east and west of Belgrade, there is more or less fighting, but the main drive is by way of the Morava valley. Von Mackensen is reported to have been re-enforced several times. He is losing heavily. So, howver, are the Serbians.

The Russian invasion of Bulgaria is believed here to be an effort to bring aid to Serbia from another source.

Bulgarians today occupied Radujevatz Serbia. The inhabitants are seeking refuge in Roumania.

Radujevatz is in northeastern Serbia on the Danube at a point near the Serbo-Bulgarian-Roumanian frontier. The capture indicates the progress of the Bulgar move toward a junction with the Austro-German forces in Norhern Serbia.

According to the Berlin Lokal Anzeiger the occupation of Knishevatz by the Bulgarians is imminent. Knishevatz is about thirty miles north east of Nish.

The Serbian capital has been moved from Nish to Prizrend in the west, close to the Albanian border.

The Bulgarians are across the Serbian frontier at a number of points Their main object seems to be to cut the railroad from Salonika. The biggest fight for the line's possession is south of Uskub. Opposing the Bulgars, besides the Serbes, is an unknown but probably not very large number of French and British troops.

Salonika dispatches say that the Bulgars in this region, though still on the offensive, have been repulsed as often as they attacked.

Whether the Bulgarians did not take Varnia at all or took it and were dislodged later, as was conflictingly reported, the town was in the Serbs hands at latest accounts. North of Vrania, however, the Bulgars hold the railroad to Nish.

In the Serbian extreme northeast, an Austrian and Bulgarian force are still struggling through the difficult mountain country toward a junction. Through re-enforcements are on the way, the allies are not yet in sufficient strength at Salonika to help the Serbs effecively.

GIRL'S FACE SLASHED.

Philadelphia, Oct. 21.—Alfia Russo, 21 years old, No. 832 south Ninth street, who was nearly kidnapped several month ago in Washington Square by three men in a taxicab, was slashed across the face yesterday morning and disfigured for life. She told the police that her assailant was a former sweetheart and the police are searching for him.

According to the young woman's story she was going to work, and while waiting for a car at Ninth and Catharine streets was attacked. The man, she said, sprang at her, and, holding her by the shoulders, cut a gash across her left cheek from ear to chin.

She screamed for help and several passersby ran to her assistance. Her assailant, however, made his escape. The young woman was taken to the Pennsylvania Hospital, where the cut was sewed up.

DEATH OF COLORED RESIDENT

Cornelius Madella, one of Alexandria's oldest and most respected colored residents, died in Washington yesterday and his remains will be brought here and buried from Roberts Chapel M. E. Church tomorrow at 3 o'clock p. m.

NEWS OF THE DAY

Strong elements in the Carranza party are advocating the adoption by Mexico of a Chinese-Japanese labor exclusion act, modeled after but more drastic than the Chinese exclusion law of the United States.

More than 350,000 Bibles, printed in forty-seven languages and in raised type for the blind, were distributed during the last year by the New York Bible Society. To immigrants landing at Ellis Island alone 15,702 copies of the scripture were given.

Capt. Boy-Ed, the German naval attache at Washington, has been promoted to the rank of full captain. Captain Boy-Ed was formerly a third-grade captain, which corresponds to the rank of lieutenant-commander in the American navy. His new rank corresponds to that of an American naval commander.

Four masked bandits held up, an Erie freight train about 10:30 o'clock last night in Bergen Cut, near Glen Rock, N. J., They escaped in an auto. Thirty shots were exchanged between the bandits and the train crew. In their haste to get away the robbers left their booty, amounting to several thousands of dollars' worth of silks in the woods.

C. W. Foote, for several years engaged in the insurance business in San Francisco, was found dead yesterday with a bullet hole through his heart in his room at a hotel, His wife Alice, was found in the same room with a wound in the body. She told the police her husband shot her when she reproached him for his drinking habits and then killed himself.

The Chihuahua City roaundhouse of the National Railways of Mexico and fourteen locomotives were, it is said, destroyed Tuesday by Villa officers. The roundhouse was burned and the engines dynamited to prevent their being used by Carranza forces. More than 100 miles of track between Torreon and Jimenez has been destroyed by the Villistas to delay Gen. Alvaro Obregon's progress northward.

Mrs. Mary Pamis, wife of a San Francisco motorman, yesterday confessed that she killed Frank Weinstein, a crippled peddler, hacked his body to pieces and then hidden the dismembered corpse in a wardrobe box in her room. "I hacked Weinstein to death Tuesday night after he attacked me because I refused to elope with him," said Mrs. Pamis to the police, "My husband and I met him in Atlantic City. Tuesday night he gave me $225 and then demanded that I flee with him.

It is said immediate steps will be taken by the British authorities, to restrict the sudden rush of able-bodied Britons of military age to the colonies, to the islands of Jersey and Guernsey and to Ireland in order to escape military service. "It is perfectly obvious" the newspapers says, "Grave damage will be caused to the relations between the mother country and her dependencies if hordes of slackers are allowed to pour in Canada. Australia and India. which have given their best blood for the empire."

Colorado Springs, Oct. 20—Two more little Daughters of the Confederacy have made their appearance in Colorado Springs. They are the children of Mr. and Mrs. Jefferson Hayes Davis, and Mr. and Mrs. Will Davis Hayes, and are great-grandchildren of Jefferson Davis, President of the Confederacy. The Davis child was born about a week ago. and the Hayes child was born yesterday. Mrs. Will Davis Hayes was formerly Miss Elizabeth McEuen Davis daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Henry F B. Davis, and Mr. Hayes i sthe youngest son of Mr. J. A. Hayes.

A special from Sheffield, Ala., says Earle Doud, acting postmaster and one of the most prominent men of the city, was shot and killed by his wife Tuesday morning as a result of a domestic quarrel. Mrs. Doud says she and her husband had been engaged in a heated controversy and Mrs. Doud's version is that her husband was choking and had threatened to blow her brains out but before he could get his revolver Mrs. Doud secured one and fired two shots into his back. Mrs. Doud has been arrested charged with murder in the first degree and placed in jail pending an investigation.

GERMANS STRIKE AT RIGA AGAIN

Large Force is Reported in Battle South of Baltic Port

RUSS READY TO LEAVE

Teuton Forces Reported to Have Been Thurst Back by Czar's Troops In Galicia.

London, Oct. 21.—Battles south of Riga, where the Germans have made some progress in the new thrust at the Baltic province port, and in Volhynia and Galicia, where the Russians have gained rather important victories, are now competing in interest with the operations in the Balkans.

The Germans have concentrated very large forces, with a great amount of artillery, south of Riga, and as a result a stubborn battle has been in progress.

Field Marshal von Hindenburg, who is in command in this region, reported two days ago that his forces had reached the River Dvina, but, as on previous occasions, this broad and fast running waterway appears to have held him up for the time being.

The situation, however, is considered by the Russians to be more serious than it had been for a long time, and there is again talk of the evacuation of Riga by the military, who have been in sole occupation of the city since the civilian population left a month ago.

At the other end of the eastern front the position is just the reverse. General Ivanoff, who has proved himself to be the most aggressive of the Russian commanders, has been striking hard at the Austro-German forces on the middle Stry and all along the fringe of Galicia that is still in Russian hands. At several places he has driven his opponents back, and there is a report tonight that the Austrians have evacuated Czernowith —a report which finds some confirmation in an Odessa dispatch declaring that the Russians have abandoned their contemplated evacuation of the northern districts of Bessarabia.

EIGHT RECEIVE DEGREES

Number of Alexandrians Initiated by Royal Order of Scotland

A number of Alexandrians received the degrees of the Royal Order of Sctoland, a masonic organization of thirty-second and thirty-third degree Masons in Washington, Tuesday and attended the annual banquet at the Shoreham Hotel in Washington last night.

Among the number were Thomas C Smith. Mayor Thomas A. Fisher, James M. Duncan, C. M. Schofield I Newton King, James W. Bales, J. B. Hoelman, David G. Grillbortzer. Other members of the order residing in Alexandria are A. A. Paul, J. William May, Robert S. Barrett, W. S. Connelly and H. Noel Garner.

WILL PURCHASE NEW ENGINE

Committee Decides on Combination Chemical and Pumping Engine

The committee on fire of city council last night decided to purchase from the American La France Fire Engine Company, of Elmira, N. Y., a combination chemical and pumping engine with all equipment. It is stated that the price of the engine will be $8,000. The apparatus is designed to provide fire protection in the recently annexed territory, but will be temporarily housed at No. 1 Truck House on Prince Street, between Royal and Fairfax.

FATAL SHOOTING.

Purvis, Miss., Oct. 21.—W. A. Blackburn, editor of the Star, was shot and killed here Tuesday, and Dr. Samuel E. Reese, editor of the Purvis Booster, is held in the local jail, charged with having murdered Blackburn. The shooting it was said followed an argument between the editors of the rival papers over the contract for printing election ballots for Lamar county.

LOCAL BREVITIES

Funeral services for Caroline Archer, the infant daughter of Mr. and Mrs. S. J. Archer, were held this afternoon from the home of the parents, 329 north Columbus street and were conducted by the Rev. John L. Allison.

There will be a called meeting of the General Parent Teachers Association at the Lee School tomorrow (Friday) afternoon at 3:30. A full attendance is urged as business of importance will be discussed.

A degree team composed of members of Potomac Lodge of Odd Fellows will go to Accotink tomorrow evening to confer the first, second and third degree of the order upon a class of 21 candidates for Accotink Lodge No. 75.

ANOTHER AERIAL TERROR

Could Destroy Entire Town 100 miles Away with a Single Torpedo

London, Oct. 21—A device which is likely to revolutionize modern warfare has been invented and tested and will be ready for the market in a very short time. It is an aerial torpedo and the men who have worked out the idea are Elmer A. Sperry, president of the Sperry Gyroscope Company of Brooklyn, and his son, Lawrence B. Sperry.

Particulars of the newest engine of death were given yesterday by Lawrence B. Sperry, who is in England in connection with the business the Sperry concern is doing at the British admiralty.

If carried out on a large scale the Sperry scheme would make possible the destruction of a whole town with a single torpedo, and the bombardment of cities as far distant as 100 miles could be carried on without risk of a single life by the assailants.

What the plan amounts to is this An aeroplane, complete. with the exception of landing gear, is constructed and fitted with gyroscopic compass and stabilizer. The torpedo. bearing anywhere from 500 pounds to five tons of tri-nitro-tolumine, is set in place. From a specially arranged launching cradle the craft is sent into the air.

The direction to be taken by the flying bomb can be determined by scientific calculations, and gyroscopic compass will insure a true course.

The stabilzer can be so set and gauged that the plane will rise at any angle. At whatever height the adjustment of the stablizer calls for. the machine will automatically assume a horizontal course, fly a predetermined distance along that course and then descend at the desired angle. The machine can be made to take a perpendicular drop over a certain point. It can be launched from a battleship as well as from the land

GREECE OFFERED BY CYPRUS

Tempting Bait For Country to Join Allies.

London, Oct. 21.—Great Britain has made a formal offer of the island of Cyprus to Greece as soon as Greece undertakes to intervene in the war on the side of the allies. The Daily Telegraph makes this announcement this morning.

The Telegraph's Athens correspondent cables that the offer has created an excellent impression in Greece and is regarded as substantial proof of the good will of Great Britain.

The concession will be made immediately if the Greeks perform their part of the engagement.

The Rome correspondent of the Daily News says: "I am informed from a diplomatic source that the Greek government is willing to give formal assurances to the allies that Greece's intervention in favor of the Austro-Germans is absolutely impossible in any case."

A Rome dispatch to the Daily Mail gives the report that the entente allies will send an ultimatum to Greece, insisting that she define her position.

Cyprus is the third largest island in the Mediterranean, 60 miles from the coast of Asia Minor. It was administered until November 5, 1914, by Great Britain under a convention concluded with the Sultan of Turkey at Constantinople in 1878, but on the outbreak of hostilities with Turkey on the former date, the island was annexed.

The high commissioner, Maj. Sir J. E. Clauson, is assisted by an executive council.

Cyprus has an area of 3,584 square miles and a population of nearly 300,000.

VIRGINIA URGES WEST VIRGINIA

Commission Suggests That Gov. Hatfield Call the Legislature

LETTER IS FRIENDLY

Made Clear, However, That Matter Should Not Be Permitted to Drag on Indefinitely.

Washington, Oct. 21.—The Virginia Debt Commission, following a conference here with representatives of Brown Brothers & Co., New York, bankers, drafted a letter to Governor H. D. Hatfield, of West Virginia, in which he is asked to take official steps for the payment of the $13,000,000 judgment rendered against West Virginia in the Virginia debt litigation. The letter suggest that an extrordinary session of the West Virginia General Assembly be called to act upon the decree handed down by the Supreme Court of the United States.

The letter is friendly in tone. It makes it clear that the Virginia Debt Commission desires to bring to a final settlement the old debt question as amicably as possible. It calls attention of the governor to the decree of the Supreme Court, and asks that something be done to give assurance to the debt certificate holders that the court's judgment will be paid.

The letter is in line with the former attitude of the commission. It does not desire to take any steps that smack of an attempt to force payment by West Virginia. It is willing to give the General Assembly of West Virginia, as representatives of the people, an opportunity to pass upon the decree of the court and say whether or not the obligation will be discharged, before any move is made in the Supreme Court to bring about payment.

The commission, after consideration and a further conference with representatives of the beneficiaries of the judgment, agreed that the matter of payment should not be held up until 1917, when the next regular session, of the Legislature will be held.

"The commission at its conference today with representatives of Brown Brothers & Co.," said Chairman H. H. Downing, of the commission, "decided to address a letter to Governor Hatfield, calling his attention to the Supreme Court's decree, and asking what action his State will take in the matter. The letter is friendly. It contains no threats, and none is intended. The Virginia commission earnestly hopes and desires that the final settlement of the debt controversy be made in the most amicable way."

Members of the commission declared that they knew nothing of political conditions in West Virginia and the effect their action would have on politics in that State. They said that politics was not taken into consideration.

West Virginians in Washington, who are acquainted with politics in their home State, say the action of the Virginia commission will force the question of final settlement of the debt question before the people of that Commonwealth. They point out that if Governor Hatfield refuses to call an extraordinary session of the Legislature to provide for payment of the judgement, it will become an issue in the next legislative campaign. This will force the people to say whether or not the mandate of the highest court in the land shall be respected or disobeyed, and if disobeyed, the court will then be in position to take such steps as it sees fit to collect the money. Members of the commission do not believe when the issue is squarely made. that the people of West Virginia will defy a decree of the Supreme Court.

NOTICE

Any person who feels that I have reported to the Local Board of Review too much intangible property against them for years prior to 1915, will kindly meet me at the Clerk's Office on Friday October 22, 1915, with the view of correcting the same.

VIRGINIA NEWS

William Howard Taft, former president of the United States, has been invited by the Women's Civic Betterment Club to visit Roanoke during the early part of December and deliver a lecture, and has indicated his willingness to accept the invitation. Mr. Taft is expected to use as his subject, "Our World Relations."

A bright autumn sun, thousands of sight-seers, warships, marines, soldiers and a spirit of patriotism and veneration for great deeds of great men blended Tuesday at Yorktown to make the 134th annual celebration of the surrender of Lord Cornwallis and the lifting forever of the yoke of English sovereignty a marked and lasting success. Dr. Henry Louis Smith, president of Washington and Lee University; Dr. T. H. McConnell; John Saunders, of Urbanna, were the speakers of the day.

As soon as a conference can be held by the Stonewall Jackson Monument Corporation and Pompeo Coppini, the Italian sculptor, it is likely that the Italian will be awarded the commission for the Jackson monument, which is to stand at the intersection of Monument Avenue and the Boulevard. The monument will cost $35,000. Twenty one models were submitted in the contest. Coppini's was selected as the best, but slight alterations are desired, which, it is said the sculptor will gladly make.

The one hundred and twenty-eighth annual session of the Presbyterian Synod of Virginia opened yesterday at Charlestown, W. Va., with 200 delegates present. The synod comprises a portion of West Virginia, Maryland and most of Virginia and the District of Columbia, and includes the Church which President Wilson attends in Washington. The opening sermon was preached by the Rev. Dr. Frank T. McFadden, pastor of the First Presbyterian Church of Richmond, the retiring moderator. The election of moderator followed. The Rev. Dr. James R. Graham, Jr. of China, formerly of Winchester was elected.

The steamer City of Richmond which left Baltimore Tuesday evening for West Point, Va., with cargo and passengers for Richmond collided with the schooner James N. Hargrave in the upper bay. It was reported to have been foggy at the time. With the impact the three masts of the were broken off and a hole punched in her side, though which she filled but being loaded with lumber, it is believed she will remain partly afloat Theodore Malone, mate of the Hargrave, was injured, but, with Capt. W. W. Phillips and the crew, was rescued by a lifeboat from the steamer and landed at West Point in the morning. The schooner was loaded with lumber from Claremont, Va., for the L. H. Burton Lumber Company.

State Department officials are considering the form of a communication which may go to the German Government in regard to the escape of two commissioned officers and six warrant officers from the interned German commerce raiders at the Norfolk Navy Yard. If it is detirmined that the general parole covering all officers and men of their crews, given by the commanders of the Kronprinz Wilhelm and the Prinz Eitel Friedrich when the ships were interned, can be construed as a personal obligation upon the two commissioned officers missing from the Eitel. the German Government probably will be asked to return Lieutenant Koch and Dr. Kroneck to the custody of the United States in the event they reach German soil.

Hopewell, a town extraordinary in many particulars, bids fair to become more famous after the next session of the Legislature. The new gun cotton town will seek a charter, and when it is transformed from a district of Prince George county into the city of Hopewell it will be with a population of not far oelow 40,000 notwithstanding it will have fewer voters than any town in Virginia. Unless a vast amount of territory is included within the confines of the city it will be found that its electorate will not exceed twenty legal voters. Under the laws of the State a person has to be a resident of a town or county for more than a year before he can vote. Also he has to be a restdent of the State for more than two years.

RESIGNS AS SECRETARY

J. E. Shinn, of the Police Board, Finds It Dificult to Please Everybody.

The right of the city authorities to interfer with the parking of automobiles of the streets of Rosemont is to be tested in the courts, and in this case will be decided just what jurisdiction the city has over the streets of this populous suburb which is now a part of the city of Alexandria. At last night's meeting of the board of police commissioners the question of the parking of automobiles at night without lights in front of residences in Rosemont was discussed and the board instructed Chief of Police Goods to direct the men in the annexed territory to arrest anyone who left an automobile, or any other obstruction on the streets at night, not properly lighted, and have the matter settled by the police court. It is claimed by residents of Rosemont that the traffic ordinances of Alexandria do not govern on the streets of Rosemont except in the case of Mt. Vernon Avenue as all of the streets are private thoroughfares and have not been taken over by the county or city.

Last night's meeting was held in the office of the city treasurer and it was decided to hold further meetings at police headquarters. Secretary J. E. Shinn tendered his resignation as secretary but the other three members declined to accept it. Mr. Shinn said that the duties of the office were ardnous and that he had found it impossible to "please everybody". The Commissioners assured Mr. Shinn that no one had ever attained the impossible.

A revision of the rules governing the police force was postponed until a date that will be convenient to the mayor. Chief Goods reported that there had been 149 prisoners in the police court since the last meeting of the board.

WILL MEET THE CHILDREN

Baby Actress to Give a Party at The Opera House.

Little Miss Tereta Schaffer, has extended an invitation to the children of Alexandria, to attend her party which she will give on the stage, after the matinee Saturday afternoon. A special program is being prepared for the children, and after the show the little actress will entertain the children, and serve ice cream and cake. Even though Miss Schaffer has delighted all who have had the pleasure of seeing her here, she is not elated over the fact, She is only 6 years old, but she has a career many older actresses would be proud of. Only last week she won the second prize at the Casino, impersonating "Charley Chaplin." In 1913, when but 5 years old, she won a silver loving cup. She has also had the pleasure of entertaining Miss Margaret Wilson, and has a letter from the President himself.

DEATH OF WM. C. BRUIN

Veteran Southern Railway Engineer Passes Away at Home, On South Washington Street

William C. Bruin, 63 years old, a veteran engineer of the Southern Railway Company, died at his home, 326 south Washington street, early last night. Mr. Bruin, has been seriously ill for the past three years with a complication of diseases. He was an engineer on the Southern for 35 years, and was one of the oldest men on the road, in point of service. He retired from active services three years ago. He is survived by a wife and six children.

The deceased was a member of Alexandria Washington Lodge of Masons, Mt. Vernon Chapter, Royal Arch Masons, Old Dominion Commandery, Knights Templar, Acca Temple, Nobles of the Mystic Shrine and the Brotherhood of Locomotive Engineers.

A meeting of Alexandria Washington Lodge of Masons will be held tomorrow afternoon at 3:15 o'clock in Masonic Temple to attend the funeral which will be held from the residence at 4 p. m.

SHOEMAKER ASSAULTED

Stephen Timney has an Adventure at King and Royal Street Last Night.

While Stephen Timney, who carried a pair of shoes under one of his arms, was passing the southeast corner of King and Royal streets about 8:30 o'clock last night, he was accosted by one of two men who were sitting in a doorway, and asked if he had a nickel. Upon replying in the affirmative the man asked for it. Upon Timney refusing to give up the nickel, the man struck him several times, but fortunately failing to inflict any serious injury. The victim of the assault supposed the object of the man was to secure the shoes he was carrying, hence he could use but one arm in attempting to parry the blows. The two men soon left the corner and disappeared in the alley on the north side of King street, between Royal and Fairfax.

The police have been furnished with a description of the assailant whom Timney will identify if he is caught.

UNION SERVICES LAST NIGHT

Rev. Dr. J. W. Duffey Delivers Sermon in First Baptist Church

The union services in the First Baptist Church last night were well attended and the interest is increasing. There were two confessions of faith and several of those present expressed a desire for the prayers of the congregation.

Rev. Dr. J. W. Duffey, pastor of the M. E. Church South, was the preacher of the evening, and he took as his text "The Son of Man is Come to Seek and to Save that which was lost."

The speaker referred in a forceful way to the Saviour seeking Zaccheus, and said that the Savious seeking the soul and the sinner seeking a Redeemer will soon meet when a blessing will be bestowed.

Dr Duffey dwelt on the sad fact that while God's word declares men lost, the sinner seems unconscious of his perilous condition. "There may be animation but no spiritual life" he said. "The sinner being, in scriptual terms, dead in trespasses and sins."

Services will be held again tonight at 7:30 o'clock .

FREE TALKS OPPOSED

Telephone Company Files Formal Plea to Restrict "Unlimited" Service.

The Chesapeake and Potomac Telephone Company has made formal application to the Public Utilities Commission in Washington for permission to have unlimited service restricted to the use of the subscriber to such service and his agents. It was stated at the office of the commission that a public hearing probably will be held to allow interested parties to present their side of the case.

The request of the company reads: "Where the local service furnished at either business or residence rates is not measured the use of the service is restricted to the subscriber and his family and representatives."

The effect of the regulation would be to prevent persons from using their neighbor's telephone. The company asked for the regulation several months ago but was told by the commission that such a matter would have to be given a public hearing.

ENGLAND SICK MAN OF EUROPE.

It is apparent that England is passing through a crisis more grave than any that nation has been confronted with since the days of William the Conqueror. The British Empire is shaking from centre to circumference. It is more formidable not only because the enemy which confronts it is formidable, but because it itself has lacked so far the man or men essential to success, and because it is weakened by dissentions, indecision, by failure to meet science with science and system with system.

The Baltimore Sun thus paints the situation:

No wonder Premier Asquith has gone to bed. The British Empire is suffering from want of great soldiers and great statesmen. It and not the Turk is the Sick Man of Europe today. The crisis requires strength, and behold weakness; it calls for union and is answered by division. Sir Edward Carson, who is supposed to be an advocate of conscription, retires from the Cabinet, and John Redmond, the Irish Nationalist leader, declares against conscription, and asserts that any day the country may "face proposals which would rend the British people into contending factions," Therefore, they fall back again on voluntary enlistment, and trust to fortune to bring them good luck. In the meantime, they change commanders at the Dardanelles and send a small force to the Balkans, while the German-Austrian legion press on toward Constantinople.

France has been far more efficient in doing her part of the work, but there are indications that dissension is beginning to make itself felt in that country, and apprehension to tug at her heart-strings. The resignation of Theophile Delcasse, the Minister of Foreign Affairs, last week, cannot be divested of significance. His was the far-seeing brain and the cunning hand which made possible the Triple Entente, and Germany has always recognized and dreaded his active and aggressive genius. Difference of view with regard to the Balkan campaign is supposed to have led to his retirement.

Is the British Empire to go down and Germany to bestride a new modern world like a military colossus? That may largely depend upon whether a great patrotic tyrant comes to the front and meets Germany's powerful tyranny with a tyranny equally powerful. Great Britain is face to face with a supreme crisis. Will she emerge triumphant from it as she did from the Spanish and Napoleonic menace, or is her star of empire destined to set?

BRYAN'S LAST AND WORST.

On Sunday night last in an address delivered from the pulpit of Grace Methodist church in New York, Mr. Bryan expatiated on "the sinfulness and unwisdom of military preparedness," and urged his hearers to exert their influence in opposition to the Government's announced program for strengthening the army and navy. He expressed his conviction that "It was the duty of the United States, if slapped on one cheek to turn the other to its assilant, and under no matter what provocation of insult or injury from a foreign power this county should refuse to fight because "it had a family to support and a soul to save."

The Norfolk Virginian in commenting upon the Nebraskan's utterances says:

What does Mr. Bryan supose to be the need of human governments if they are not to maintain the rights and protect the lives, liberties and properties of their citizens?

Reduced to practice the theories which Mr. Bryan is hawking through the land for a price would make of this country the football of all the nations of earth. There would be none so poor to do us reverance or to abstain from slicing off some part of the rich possessions we were too cowardly to defend, except such countries as China and Korea, themselves already brought to the depth of impotence and humiliation by following Mr. Brya's recipe for the support of national families and the salvation of national souls. Whether the man is the victim of a fanatic delusion or is pushing his propaganda for the pecuniary profit it yields or is consciously imperilling the honor and safety of the coutry for the sake of raising an issue on which to regain political importance, is of secondary importance. He is preaching heresies abounding in menace to that very cause of Peace which he professes to have so deeply at heart. His self-constituted mission is one of mischievous portent, whatever its intent. He is sowing seeds of dissension among the American people at a time when unity of sentiment is imperatively demanded by conditions at home and abroad. The rapid and shallow outpourings that constitute his stock in trade are encouraging the conspiracies and machinations against our Government of alien elements within our gates and are creating impressions abroad not calculated to make easier President Wilson's task of at once safeguarding the rights of America and avoiding a rupture with foreign powers not scrupulously regarding them.

MORE PEACE PROPHECIES

A letter from Berlin, which is given prominence in the paper today says:

But by spring we shall probably have peace. This remark of one of the most highly placed and prominent state officials in conversation with a corrrespondent may be taken as indicative of the view on the probable duration of the war held in German government quarters, or at any rate, in certain influential circles of the government. The person quoted occupies a portion which lends much weight to his opinion on this subject, and the remark was made during a discussion of certain future possibilities in the Balkan situation.

Pressed to give a reason, the official replied that he based his expectations largely on "the sound business isense of the British," which would lead them to move for peace as soon as they saw nothing was to be gained by continuing the war.

We now hold in the west, he continued, a strong fortified line inclosing a great enclave of French and Belgian territory. We shall soon have a similar line fortified in the east. Behind these two lines we can sit tight and defy all efforts of our enemies to break through.

I have much confidence in the business sense of the British and think that when once they have found the Dardanelles cannot be forced, this will lead them to take steps in the direction of peace.

Since this conversation the correspondent has heard similar remarks from other officials. The vigor with which the various political groups and big industrial commercial and agricultural organizations of Germany are pursuing the discussion of the tabooed topic of the 'aims of the war" indicates, too, that the government is giving serious consideration to the subject of peace.

Reading between the lines of the above, there is a suspicion that Germany is tiring of this exhaustive war and is allowing letters similar to that quoted to go our for a purpose. That the Teutons are more than holding their own in the different war zones is an acknowledged fact, but that they are doing so at a fearful cost in men and money is also self-evident.

MEET U. S. NAVAL PLANS

Increases Proposed by President Wilson Anticipated by Foreign Governments

Washington, Oct. 21—Confidential reports received at the Navy Department reveal that England and Germany have anticipated the increases proposed in President Wilson's new plan of naval preparedness. It was also learned the figures made public by Secretary Daniels yesterday were only a part of the general scheme for a greater navy.

Here is a summary of the information.

1. It is estimated that by 1923 Great Britain will have eighty Dreadnoughts of the first class; the United States thirty-three and Germany at least thirty-three.

2. The maximum size of the warship of the future is to be 40,000 tons displacement with a speed of thirty knots.

3. Congress is to be asked for an appropriation of $1,000,000 with which to begin the construction of a government-owned plant for the manufacture of armor plate and projectiles.

4. The recent war games show that American destroyers are not successful as scout ships.

Navy experts say England is planning her battleship construction on the theory that for the future she must have as many ships of the first line as the United States and Germany combined. No matter what the program of this country may be, it is believed Great Britain will meet it with an increased proportion of new Dreadnoughts.

BEAM BREAKS NECK.

Philadelphia, Oct., 21.—Losing control of a beam he was adjusting on a battleship at the plant of the New York Shipbuilding Company in Camden yesterday, Ruffi Galie, 36 years old, was struck in the head with such force that he was instantly killed. Coroner Bushey said death was caused by a broken neck. The man had other fractures.

JUNIOR ORDER OF MECHANICS

T. Gray Haddon Named State Councilor by Convention in Danville.

Danville, Oct. 21.—What is characterized as one of the most harmonious sessions in the history of the State Council, Junior Order, United American Mechanics, closed at 6:30 o'clock yesterday evening at the Y. M. A. C. Hall. Before adjourning finally the council elected to meet next year in October, at Lynchburg.

T. Gray Haddon, of Richmond, was elected by acclamation State councilor for the ensuing year, and was soon afterward presented floral expression by the members of Capital City Council. Delegate J. H. B. Peay making the presentation felicitiously.

Other officers elected, some of them in spirited competition, are: H. R. Pollard, Portsmouth, vice councilor; Thomas B. Ivey, Petersburg, State council secretary (his twenty-eighth election); A. L. Bradley, Richmond, treasurer; E. W. Miller, Richmond, conductor; J. Harry Martin, Roanoke, warden; C. J. Ashworthy, Brosville, (Pittsylvania county), inside sentinel, R. E. Jones, Galax, outside sentinel; Dr. J. L. Mears, and A. L. Sampson, Richmond, and Dr. W. A. Gorden, Ekton, trustees.

A telegram announcing the death of Councilor C. S. Jones, of District of Columbia, was responded to with a telegram of condolence. Several changes were made in the ritual work designed to add beauty and impressiveness to the ceremonial. Several amendments to by-laws affecting local councils, were made, these being part of the secret work.

RECEIVE THIRTY THIRD DEGREE

Two Virginians Honored by Supreme Council of Scottish Rite

Washington, Oct. 21—Nearly 200 new thirty-third degree honorary members were elected yesterday by the Supreme Council of the Scottish Rite of the Southern Jurisdiction of the United States, in session in the newly dedicated Masonic Temple here. Virtually all of the Southern and Western States, the District of Columbia, the army and navy, the Philippines and Porto Rico were represented in the list of those elected.

It is expected that several active thirty-third degree members will be named later in the week.

Among the Virginians given Masonic honors by the Supreme Council were: James A. Richardson, of Richmond, and Abraham Aronheim, of Norfolk, elevated to the thirty-third degree; Emmett Seaton and Mann A. Sycle, of Richmond, and Clifford V. Schooler, of Norfolk, made knight commander of the court of ICE MAN'S FATAL FALL.

Mount Holly, N. J., Oct. 21. —Falling from his ice wagon near the fair grounds, Isaac L. Shinn, a local dealer, landed with such force that his back was broken and he died soon after being found. He was conscious for a short time, but could not explain how he fell. It is believed that he was stricken with vertigo.

EDISON TRIUMPHANT

This week—Oct. 18 to 23—is a week of celebration for the master inventor's greatest achievements.

Complete triumph in just ten months over the tremendous difficulties of New Jersey's greatest fire.

The country is bowing to Mr. Edison's greatness. One of the greatest of all his inventions—his pet and hobby—the one to which he has given most of his time—is the Diamond Disc Phonograph.

Hear the New Edison—not how perfectly it reproduces the artist's music—human, lifelike, natural. It is the laboratory recreation of music as opposed to manufactured music; the musical instrument as opposed to the talking machine.

SPECIAL CONCERT TODAY

We have arranged a special concert for today—a splendid Edison Week Program, 4:30 to 5:30. Come and hear this choice program of the world's best music. Note how the distinctive tone is preserved. No mechanical timbre. The artist is before you in all but form. No charge for seats. Judge Mr. Edison's greatest triumph for yourself.

REPRIEVE EXPECTED

Washington, Oct. 21—A reprieve will probably be granted the two Belgian women, Countess de Belleville and Mme. Thuller, condemned by German military courts to be executed as spies, according to a dispatch received at the State Department yesterday from Ambassador Gerard, at Berlin.

The Ambassador stated he had carried out the instructions of the department, sent him several days ago, and brought to the attention of the German government the case of the two women. The Ambassador's instructions, Secretary Lansing said yesterday, were to use his good offices on behalf of the women to the extent that seemed proper in view of all the circumstances of the situation The cases were brought to the attention of the United States government by the French Ambassador here.

State Department officials said yesterday the British government has not sent any communication to this government in the case of Miss Edith Cavell, a British nurse, who was executed by German military authorities in Brussells recently on the charge that she was a spy.

SUICIDE OF YOUNG WOMAN.

Preferred Death to Marriage With Man She Did Not Love.

New Bern, N. C., Oct. 21.— Miss Dollie Price, an attractive young woman whose home is about 6 miles from New Bern, ended her life at a local hotel Tuesday morning, when she fired a 32-calibre bullet into her body just over the heart. The young woman was in love with a man in Goldsboro, while another from Elizabeth City was to have arrived in the city Tuesday afternoon to marry her. Brooding over this, the young woman decided to end her life and fired the fatal bullet while hotel employees were attempting to break into her room to prevent her rash act.

The bullet went clear through her body, lodging in the wall in the room.

BATTLE WITH SNAKE

Reptile Wrapped Itself Around Man's Body in Fight For Life.

Freeling, Va., Oct. 21.—A Syrian peddler, who was crossing Cumberland Mountain on his way from Kentucky to Virginia, came upon a large blacksnake lying stretched across the road. As the man had an inherent enmity toward the serpent kind, he cast about for some weapon with which to combat the reptile. As he saw nothing handy, he loosed a stout leather strap from his pack, and approaching the reptile gave battle, but the weapon being too light the strokes were not effective.

The snake coiled itself, and rearing up, made a spring upon the man, wrapping around his body. He tried to disengage himself from the reptile, but could not break its hold, while it kept tightening its folds about him. Then he bethought himself of his knife, which he hurriedly took from his pocket, and soon freed himself from the fast tightening form.

The man found afterward that he had made several cuts in his clothing while using his knife upon the snake.

COMMONWEALTH OF VIRGINIA

OFFICE OF

CLERK OF THE HOUSE OF DELEGATES

Proposed amendments to the Constitution of Virginia, agreed to at session of General Assembly 1914, and published in pursuance of section 196 of the Constitution and act approved February 3, 1908.

JOINT RESOLUTION proposing an amendment to section 46, Article IV, of the Constitution.

Resolved by the House of Delegates, the Senate concurring (a majority of the members elected to each house agreeing thereto), That the following amendment to the Constitution of Virginia, be and the same is hereby, proposed and referred to the General Assembly to be chosen at the next general election of members of the House of Delegates for its concurrence, in conformity with the provisions of section one hundred and ninety-six of article fifteen of said Constitution, namely:

Strike out from the Constitution of Virginia, section forty-six of article four, which is in the following words:

Sec. 46. The General Assembly shall meet once in two years, on the second Wednesday in January, next succeeding the election of the members of the House of Delegates and not oftener, unless convened in the manner prescribed by this Constitution. No session of the General Assembly, after the first under this Constitution, shall continue longer than sixty days; but with the concurrence of three-fifths of the members elected to each house, the session may be extended for a period not exceeding thirty days. Except for the first session held under this Constitution, members shall be allowed a salary for not exceeding sixty days at any regular session, and for not exceeding thirty days at any extra session. Neither house shall, without the consent of the other, adjourn to another place nor for more than three days. A majority of the members elected to each house shall constitute a quorum to do business, but a smaller number may adjourn from day to day, and shall have power to compel the attendance of members in such manner and under such penalty as each house may prescribe.

And insert in lieu thereof the following:

Sec. 46. The General Assembly shall meet once in two years, on the second Wednesday in January, next succeeding the election of the members of the House of Delegates, and not oftener, unless convened in the manner prescribed by this Constitution. No session of the General Assembly shall continue longer than ninety days, except that with the concurrence of three-fifths of the members elected to each house, the session may be extended for a period not exceeding thirty days. Neither house shall, without the consent of the other, adjourn to another place, not for more than three days. A majority of the members elected to each house shall constitute a quorum to do business, but a smaller number may adjourn from day to day, and shall have power to compel the attendance of members in such manner and under such penalty as each house may prescribe.

JOINT RESOLUTION proposing amendment to section 50 of Article IV of the Constitution of Virginia, and providing for publishing said amendment, and certifying the same to the next General Assembly.

1. Resolved by the House of Delegates, the Senate concurring (a majority of the members elected to each house agreeing thereto), That the following amendment to the Constitution of Virginia, be and the same is hereby, proposed and referred to the General Assembly to be chosen at the next general election of members of the House of Delegates for its concurrence, in conformity with the provisions of section fifty of article four of said Constitution, namely:

Strike out from the Constitution of Virginia, section fifty, article four, which is in the following words:

Sec. 50. No law shall be enacted except by bill. A bill may originate in either house, to be approved or rejected by the other, or may be amended by either, with the concurrence of the other.

No bill shall become a law unless prior to its passage it has been—

(a) Referred to a committee of each house, considered by such committee in session, and reported;

(c) Read at length on three different calendar days in each house; and unless,

(d) A yea and nay vote has been taken in each house upon its final passage, the names of the members voting for and against entered on the journal, and a majority of those voting, which shall include at least two-fifths of the members elected to each house, recorded in the affirmative.

And only in the manner required in sub-division (d) of this section shall an amendment to a bill by one house be concurred in by the other, or a conference report be adopted by either house, or either house discharge a committee from the consideration of a bill and consider the same as if reported; provided, that the printing and reading, or either, required in sub-division (b and c) of this section, may be dispensed with in a bill to codify the laws of the State, and in any case of emergency by a vote of four-fifths of the members voting in each house taken by the yeas and nays, the names of the members voting for and against, entered on the journal; provided further, that no bill which creates or established a new office, or which creates, continues or revives a debt or charge or makes, continues or revives any appropriation of public or trust money or property, or releases, or discharges, or commutes any claim or demand of the State, or which imposes, continues or revives a tax, shall be passed except by the affirmative vote of the majority of all the members elected to each house, the vote to be by the yeas and nays, and the names of the members voting for and against, entered on the journal. Every law imposing, continuing or reviving a tax shall specifically state such tax, and no law shall be construed as so stating such tax which requires a reference to any other law or any other tax. The presiding officer of each house shall, in the presence of the house over which he presides, sign every bill which has been passed by both houses and duly enrolled. Immediately before this is done, all other business being suspended, the title of the bill shall be publicly read. The fact of the signing shall be entered on the journal.

And insert in lieu thereof the following:

Sec. 50. No law shall be enacted except by bill. A bill may originate in either house to be approved or rejected by the other, or may be amended by either, with the concurrence of the other.
